Howard's Amendment.

Mr. Howard, of Michigan, gave notice of his intention to propose amendments to the bill relative to the regulation of the selection of grand and petit jurors in the Territory of Utah, and for other purposes, as follows:

After the 13th Section: "And if any person shall presume to solemnize a marriage in said Territory who is not by this Act authorized so to do, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, before any Court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, nor less than $100, or by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding six months, nor less than one month, or by both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the Court.

Sec. 14. That is, no man in said Territory of Utah shall claim or pretend to have the right to the society or the services of any woman, not lawfully married to him, by reason of her having been "sealed," devoted, or consecrated to him by any ceremony, rite or consecration, sacrament, form or order, decree, sentence, vote or direction of the so-called Mormon Church, or of any prophet, bishop, priest, or other officer or functionary of said church, or of any member thereof, whether with or without the consent of the woman, and shall cohabit with such woman, he shall be deemed guilty of a crime, and shall, upon conviction thereof, before any Court of competent jurisdiction, be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, nor less than $500, or by imprisonment at hard labor in the penitentiary of said Territory not more than five years nor less than three months, or by such fine and imprisonment as the discretion of the Court in all such cases may impose. Such woman shall be deemed a competent witness in the trial of the offender.

Sec. 15. That all children, the fruit of any such pretended sealing or spiritual marriage as aforesaid, hereafter born in said Territory, shall be deemed and held to be the heirs of the mother but not of the father, and it shall be lawful for any woman in said Territory, claimed as such spiritual wife of any man, but not married to him according to law, to sue for and recover from him compensation for her labor and services while such his spiritual wife, in an action of assumption without any deduction, under pretence of supporting or maintenance of her by him during the period of such spiritual marriage; and also to sue for and recover any real estate, money, or other personal property, given, granted or conveyed by her since the passage of the Act of 1862, entitled "An Act to punish and prevent the practice of polygamy in the Territories of the United States, and other places, and disapproving and annulling certain acts of the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah, to any person, or body politic, as a voluntary gift, donation, or contribution to said pretended Mormon Church, or for its benefit directly or indirectly, and any woman in said Territory not lawfully married, but who has been at any time in the relation of such spiritual marriage above mentioned, shall, in all Courts and places, be deemed "femme sole."

Sec. 16. That every person male and female who shall knowingly and willingly aid and assist in or be present at such ceremony or rite of Mormonism known as such, sealing or spiritual marriage with intent to countenance, encourage and give effect to the same, shall be deemed guilty of a crime, and on conviction thereof before a court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished as last aforesaid, and the person or persons celebrating or solemnizing such ceremony shall be punished as last aforesaid, and by a fine of at least $1,000 each, and imprisoned at hard labor in such penitentiary for at least two years.

Secs. 17 and 18 enact substantially the rules of descent in effect in New York.

Sec. 19 recognizes the title of lawful husband as tenant by courtesy, and of a widow as tenant in dower.

Sec. 21. That all criminal cases arising under said Act of 1862, as well as all criminal cases arising under this Act touching the solemnization of marriage, sealing, or spiritual marriage, and being present at the ceremony of sealing herein mentioned, shall be heard, tried and determined by the District Courts of said Territory of Utah, without a jury, upon information to be presented to the Court by the Attorney of said Territory, as well as by the Prosecuting Attorney of the County in which the offense is committed. Such information shall, before being presented to the Court, be verified by the oath of the Attorney presenting it by the person prosecuting, or some other suitable person, and the same being presented and filed the Court shall issue a mandate for the apprehension of the accused, who shall be entitled to bail as in cases of indictment. If the accused shall, on being arraigned, plead "not guilty" to the information, or if he shall refuse to plead thereto, which by a standing rule shall be deemed and treated as a plea of "not guilty," the Court shall proceed to hear the evidence in the case, both on the part of the prosecution and the defense, and to find the accused "guilty" or "not guilty," as the evidence shall warrant, and thereupon to pass sentence upon or to discharge the accused. But the accused shall, on the trial, have the right to except to any rulings of the Judge trying the case, upon any question of law touching the admissibility of evidence offered on the trial of the accused, or touching any other question of law arising in the case, which exceptions shall be noted by the Judge, and in case of a finding of guilty by the Judge, he shall, if the accused shall so request of him, report the case to the Supreme Court of said Territory in such manner as fully and fairly to bring before it all such questions of law to the end that said Supreme Court shall pass upon them and reverse or affirm the judgment as right and as justice may require.

THE National Republican says: On New Year's night two Department clerks, Thomas Rye, of the Treasury, and J. A. Ayres, of the Quartermaster's Department, both acquaintances, went together to make the usual "calls" of the season, and in the course of their perambulations extended their visits to the house of Miss Henrietta Parkhurst, in Fiddler's Row, between Thirteenth and Thirteen-and-a-half streets, on D, where, after indulging in frequent potent drafts, they became somewhat rude in their deportment towards the fair inmates of the house. A quarrel soon ensued between one of the boarders and Rye, who "pitched in" and was about to give her a wallopping after the most approved fashion, when Ayres interfered and protested against such unmanly conduct. Heated with villainous whisky, Rye turned upon his companion, and drawing a knife inflicted a severe wound in his arm, which bled profusely.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The Strong Argument of Polygamy.

The papers of polygamy, from day to day and week to week, are filled with extracts from their archanges chronicling the crimes of the outside world, and especially those which display a lack of virtue and chastity. When they find that some poor devil in New York or San Francisco has fallen from grace, or some wayward sister has abandoned the path of morality to pursue the devious ways of sin and shame, they roll it as a sweet morsel under their tongues, and with words of mock philanthropy and assumed charity, really glory in the arrant sinfulness of Gentile humanity.

An extract from some newspaper editorial, exposing the vices of the world's great cities, New York, London, Paris, is seized with avidity by these hunters after other people's depravity, and paraded before their readers with an ill-concealed gloating. All this is for a purpose, transparent enough, if not laudable in the press of Zion. We do not attribute to our Saintly contemporaries a wicked desire merely to familiarize their readers and their people with crime and sorrow and shame, or to pervert the better instincts of humanity by such familiarity with evils, which have ever attended human society. But the real design is apparent in the arguments based on such newspaper extracts. The people of Utah are told to "look on this picture, and then on that," to contrast their own society with the society of Gentiles—as thus represented. If, indeed, the annals of crime as thus exposed, exhibited the normal condition of the human race, and if these peculiar sort of crimes, so much dwelt upon, were not in fact the exceptions rather than the rule, there might perhaps be something in the argument.

If sin and crime were held up to the world as virtues, were taught and enforced as merits, and were not frowned upon, legislated against, and repressed by all the power of penal statutes and public teachings, then possibly there might be said to be some substance in the comparison instituted.

The great standing argument of the exponents and upholders of polygamy is, that that institution is better than the code of morals prevailing among the declared outcasts of society, and which is said to prevail in the purlieus and hell-holes of the great cities of Christendom! Admit it; and yet does not this very argument abandon the whole question? What a sad confession does the suggestion really make against the advocates and the victims of polygamy! Hear it, ye women of Utah, who blindly listen to "counsel" of your chosen priests, these modern Scribes and Pharisees! They claim that your condition as the third or fourth wife is at least not so low, not so questionable, not so base, as is that of the Magdalen of Paris or Liverpool!

If dissolute conduct, prostitution, unchastity, were held up to mankind by the Christian world as so many virtues; if pure maidens and artless youth were adjured to plunge into their depths as a means of reformation and to attain eternal glory beyond the skies, then, indeed, might the polygamist institute the comparison, and claim that his darling doctrine is preferable. But not until then. The very claim, the very argument they use, and are forced to use, concedes all that is urged against them, and by their own admission is thus established the charge that polygamy is but a little better than depravity in its most detestible shape.

It will hardly be contended, though the suggestion is intimated by the defenders of the "twin-relic," that Christianity or Christian society inculcates or upholds, much less enjoins, infidelity or the encouragement of depraved passions. Who, even in Utah, needs to be told that these things exist, not because, but despite of Christian teachings and wholesome laws? As well might one contend that because now and then in Utah a man is guilty of larceny, that, therefore, the Mormon religion and Mormon laws encourage stealing. Crime, and vice, and sin, exist in the world, not because society, or religion, or law, permits or encourages them, but because mankind are not all perfect, even in these latter days. When, however, the preacher in the pulpit, or the editor in his press, tells the mothers of Utah that their condition is only more honorable, or less sinful than that of the painted syren of the Five Points, or the deceived and abandoned Pariah of other lands, he pays a sorry compliment to the women of Utah, and confesses even more than is urged against polygamy by its opponents.

We saw to-day at the assay office of David Lundbom two bars of bullion from the works of the Social and Steptoe Company at Egan Canyon. The bullion is very fine and contains about six per cent. of gold. This is the first lot of bullion received from that section for a long period, but hereafter it will produce regularly. We are informed by Mr. John O'Dougherty, the Superintendent of the property, that the bullion was obtained from the tailings of former working, which assayed from $140 to $160.

The Tribune states that the friends of the National bankrupt law are confident that the House bill will also pass the Senate.

A very fair Tariff bill, substantially the House bill of last session, as amended by the Senate Finance Committee, seems almost sure of passing.

The idea of impeaching and removing the President has more strength in the House than was supposed.

Should the President veto the Nebraska and Colorado bills, the former will pretty certainly, and the latter probably, pass over the veto.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the Virginia Union.]

San Francisco, January 15.

The opposition steamship America has not been telegraphed, notwithstanding the thousand and one rumors to the contrary. The town has been alive with false rumors throughout the day, until the public mind has become unnecessarily excited on the subject of cholera. At one time it was currently reported that the America had arrived, and that 312 deaths had occurred during the trip; another story set the number at 287; while still another had the entire ship's crew, officers and passengers down with the terrible contagion.

The trial of D. O. McCarthy and others for publishing a libel on W. C. Ralston, of the Bank of California, was to have been had to-day; but the case was set at the foot of the calender in consequence of the defense requesting a subpœna to compel the production of the books of the Bank of California in Court. The proposition, under the circumstances, involved intricate questions of law, for the purpose of investigating which the case was continued. The indictment against the co-defendants of McCarthy was dismissed, so that he alone will be tried.

An immense crowd attended the races at Bay View Park yesterday. ABOLITION OF THE VICE PRESIDENCY.—In a political lecture by Frederick Douglas at Hoboken, on the 15th ult., on the "Dangers of the Republic," he said he was in favor of reconstruction, not only of the States, but for the more radical reconstruction of the whole Government. He added: "I am for the abolition of the Vice Presidency. There is no need of any extra, ready-made President kept out in the cold waiting to come in. No more need of electing a Vice President than there is for electing a second husband for our daughters in case the first husband dies. I would abolish the Vice Presidency, and remove so thin a veil as assassination between a man and the tempting place of President of the United States. A Vice President is a standing menace of the life of the President. I believe your President will sit more safe and secure when the shadow of the Vice President ceases to fall upon him in the Presidential chair." We do not suppose that Fred. Douglass meant anything personal in the above, but is not his suggestion worth some consideration?

CAPT. JOHN J. HOFF.—This officer, who served through the Peninsula campaign as an artillery officer, and who commanded at the "Soldiers' Rest," in Alexandria, from the time of its completion, left recently to join his regiment, 20th U. S. Infantry, at Richmond. Capt. Hoff, who ranked as Major in the volunteer service, did the country good service in civil office in California. The Captain passed his examination by the Board with honor.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole day ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertizing in these four Territories.

INDEPENDENCE HALL.—The party at Independence Hall, last Monday evening, was one of the most agreeable and recherche affairs of the season. At an early hour the hall was comfortably filled by about thirty-five couple, who spent the night until among the "small hours" in "swinging around the circle." The Salt Lake ladies looked even more lovely than usual; and although we dropped in at a late hour, and found them engaged so far ahead that we could not enjoy a dance without breaking our Puritan principles, we must pronounce the party a most decided success, which reflected much credit upon the committee who had the matter in charge. We must also give special mention to the very excellent music furnished by the quadrille band of Mr. De Witt Waugh.

THE RULING PASSION.—We have recently heard of a case that shows how the ruling passion for gamblingwill make a man forget his pride of character. In a well known gambling saloon an individual, being unlucky in cards, actually took off his coat, hat, pants, vest, and stood in his drawers, while he bet the balance of his clothes away. Fortune, the clear-sighted dame though blind-folded, came to his rescue, and he quit the game several hundred dollars ahead of the game. This only shows to what excess men will indulge in these pernicious practices.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.—We were yesterday honored with a visit from Judge Hough, who occupies the double capacity of United States Attorney General for Idaho and Special Indian Agent. The Judge is en route for Washington for the purpose of making his report, and from what we can learn there are few of Uncle Sam's appointments whose acts will bear investigation with such honorable distinction as the gentleman whose Union principles (though a Virginian by birth) has made him so popular in Idaho.

N. P. WILLIS.—By telegraph we learn that N. P. Willis, one of the bright literary gems of the Nineteenth century, has departed this life. To abler hands we leave the duty of enrolling on the scroll of fame, the worth of this distinguished man, whose genius as a writer won for him a reputation seldom equalled, and which will ever endear his memory to every true lover of literature for all time to come.

IN TOWN.—Simpson, the old hero of Bannock, is in town, and with the assistance of his able coadjutor, Mr. Mansfield, they chase away the "blues" of a good many who are susceptible of that disease. The visits of such men makes life happy, and the circulating medium goes on.

LEGISLATIVE.—The Territorial Legislature of Utah has adjourned. The Legislature of the State of Deseret convened yesterday, and "Governor" Brigham's Message is worthy of the attention of Congress, or at least that portion which doubts the assurance of the advocates of Mormonism.

NEVADA'S SENATOR.—The Hon. James W. Nye has been re-elected to the United States Senate by the Legislature of Nevada. This is a result not less gratifying than expected. It is virtually indorsing the course by the worthy representative of the young State of Nevada.

FLOWERS.—If anybody would just look in and gaze upon the fancy and most beautiful assorted egg-noggs at the Bank Exchange, they would be tempted to smell if not taste. But we know the gratification of one's sense would produce the disposition to indulge in the other. 1t

A CHANCE TO BE LIBERAL.—The set of silver for raffle at the Bank Exchange is the property of a widow lady, who is in need of assistance. Everybody should take a chance. You don't always have a chance like this to do good.

GRATIFYING.—Everybody should subscribe for the Reese River Reveille, if only to get a copy of its issue of January 17th, which contains the full account of the grand affair for the benefit of Mr. Gridley. The Austin people are some.

THE CHALLENGE BALL.—All desirous of having carriages to call at that dance can be accommodated by leaving their names at the Challenge Restaurant until 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

THE CHALLENGE BALL.—The entertainment at this well known fashionable restaurant is worth the attention of all who desire to spend a pleasant evening.

MINING INTERESTS.—A writer to the Montana Democrat from Red Mountain City, (Highland Gulch) says:

"There has been a stampede to "Posey" Gulch, about sixteen miles from here. They are running four or five drain ditches on Little Camp Creek. All who are working here are doing well. Numerous lodes are being struck here, and last, but the best, they have struck is a lode about half a mile south of town, and from thence east and west indefinitely, that bids fair to rival anything in richness and extent that has ever been discovered anywhere. The Ballarat discovery—by W. Smith, W. Baldwin, D. McKeever and E. B. Watson—is considered the best yet found on the lode, but it is good everywhere. The crevice on the Ballarat is about fifteen feet wide, composed of half fine dirt, and the balance rotten quartz; and the latter when ground up with the dirt, yields, on an average, about one dollar of fine flour gold to the pan. They are down fifteen feet and it improves both in extent and richness as they go. The crevice has been struck on No. 3, East, wider and as rich, but not quite so much decomposed. The crevice has not been sought for yet on the west end of the above discovery, but the good book says, seek and ye shall find, and I guess it will not be long before the lucky owners will be "on it."

A COLORED woman at Richmond made this quaint but genuine prayer: "O Father Almighty, O sweet Jesus, most glorified King, will you be so pleased as to come dis way and cast your eye on dese poor mourners. O sweet Jesus, ain't you de Daniel God? Didn't you deliver de tree chillun from de fiery furnis? Didn't you heah Jonah cry in de belly ub de whale? O, if dere be one seekin' mourner here dis afternoon, if dere be one sinkin' Peter, if dere be one weepin' Mary, if dere be one doubtin' Thomas, won't you be pleased to come and deliber 'em? Won't you mount on Gospel hoss an' ride roun' de souls of these yere mourners, and say, 'Go in peace and sin no mosh?' Won't you be so pleased to come wid de love in one han' and de fan in de odder han' to fan away doubts? Won't you be so pleased to shake dese yere souls over hell an' not let 'em fall in?"
